SUBMISSION GUIDELINES:

Along with the cover sheet, the following must be submitted for consideration:

- Overview: Presentation description of 500 words or less that describes the major points and format of your presentation.
- Abstract: Description of your presentation in 25 words or less to be used in the conference brochure, if accepted. Conference staff reserves the right to edit the submitted abstract for consistency of style.
- Learning Objectives: Please list a minimum of three learning objectives for your proposed session.

No identifying information, including names or affiliations of the presenter(s), can be included with the overview or abstract.

REVIEW PROCESS:

Proposals must be received by January 15, 2017 – no exceptions. Proposals will be reviewed and scored by a minimum of three reviewers in a blind review process. Proposals that are recommended will undergo a final review by the Program Committee. Presenters will be notified on or about January 20, 2017 regarding the acceptance of their proposals. Presenters must register for the conference and are responsible for all expenses related to the conference, including travel, lodging, and discounted presenter's registration rate (conference registration includes continental breakfast each day and two luncheons). Presenters will be offered a special conference rate for local lodging. A conference registration discount will be offered to a maximum of two presenters per presentation. All travel arrangements are the responsibility of the presenters.

PROPOSAL PREFERENCES:

The following elements will result in a higher rating for submitted presentations:

- Proposals which incorporate a multidisciplinary perspective and approach
- Research that incorporates practice applications
- Presentations that offer skills that attendees can take back to their child welfare practice
- Proposals with presenters from different disciplines
